Midterm Test

Marks: 15 marks of your course total

Due: Please refer to eCentennial

Create an HTML document called YourName_Midterm.html. In this test you would create a website for an imaginary business.

1. In the HTML page, add a brief introduction about the business. Add a photo. (2 Marks)
2. The page should have a products section, which will list all the products that are sold by this business (2 Marks)
3. In the products section add a button with the text 'Show Discontinued Products'. When this button is clicked you must create elements in JavaScript to display the products which are discontinued and append them as children to the products section. (3 Marks)
4. The page should have mission section which shows the mission. Add a button called 'change mission text color'. When this button is clicked the text color of mission must change to red (1 Mark)
5. When the page is loaded the Windows prompt should ask for the name of the user and display a welcome message accordingly. (1 Mark).
6. Create a new html page called 'contact.html' and link it to your home page (YourName_Midterm.html). In the contact page, you will create a form to collect the following details from the user: email, first name, last name, message. Add validations to check if it is a valid email and make all the fields required. (3 marks)
7. Overall UI design and implementation of proper CSS styles (3 Marks)
